THE PHILIPPINE NATIONAL EMUL HONOR SOCIETY
OF SECONDARY SCHOOL STUDENTS

I. INTRODUCTION

For the further development of citizenship and its character and the promotion of leadership and intellectual efficiency through service, the Philippine National EMUL Honor Society of Secondary School Students is organized under the auspices of the Citizenship Training and Character Building Committee of the Children's Museum and Library, Incorporated from among selected high school students who have been awarded or chosen as model student based on the criteria set by the said committee. Like in any honor society, the integrity of the members shall be upheld and among themselves they will develop standards of excellence which will be bases for accepting members and at the same time the bases for disqualifying them.

II. OBJECTIVES

The objectives of the Philippine National EMUL Honor Society of Secondary School Student are:

1. To promote intellectual efficiency and high scholastic standard.
2. To encourage service to others.
3. To develop moral, intellectual civic leadership.
4. To encourage members to participate actively in school activities.
5. To provide the youth the opportunity to obtain the rights and privileges he is entitled to in democratic society.
6. To develop good organization ability and courtesy.
7. To respect authority.
8. To provide experience in group planning and parliamentary procedures.
9. To enhance love of country.
10. To provide a system of "sponsored mobility" which operates simultaneously with the system of contest mobility that is

VI - THE DEVELOPMENT AND ENCOURAGEMENT OF HIGH SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

Once a member, certain standards of conduct and scholarship become operative, otherwise the member is suspended. Hence the idea of "hooking good within the group." It is in this organization where one can come in contact with the best models and types, the highest standards of work, and where one receives the greatest spirit of emulation.

VII - THE DEVELOPMENT OF LEADERSHIP

Leadership is defined as the ability to arouse enthusiasm in a group. Members must lead in campus activities such as student publications and government, musical, dramatic, literary, and oratorical societies, student committees, and administrative positions of one sort or another.

VIII - ENHANCEMENT OF LOVE OF COUNTRY

Love of country, one of the basic elements in a democracy, is developed in a small society like the family, and nurtured in a bigger society, the school. Members should be made to believe that loyalty and love for an organization form the very foundation of love of country.

IX - THE SYSTEM OF SPONSORED MOBILITY

Sponsored Mobility refers to upward movement as the result of conscious selection by those who already hold secure high status; contest mobility refers to moving up as a result of better competitive performance than those with whom one starts out as a status equal.
