1. The Program for Decentralized Educational Development (PRODED), the Bureau of Higher Education (of the Ministry of Education, Culture and Sports) and the Philippine Association for Graduate Education (PAGE) are jointly undertaking a state-of-the-art of research in education. This project involves the development of a methodological approach for an evaluation activity which would get at what has been done, what could be done, and what still needs to be done in the field of research. It is predicted on the proposition that the existing knowledge base produced by the 287 graduate schools in the country and related research centers should be formally analyzed, synthesized and documented as a starting point for any future work in research.
2. Assistance and cooperation of every institution offering graduate programs are being requested to collect the abstracts of all theses/ dissertations written in the field of education during the past twenty years. The Regional PAGE chapter of which the dean of the graduate school is a member has been requested to coordinate the project in the region. All deans of the graduate schools have been informed of the project.
3. This Office endorses the project and enjoins full cooperation. The educational community needs to continue to explore ways in which educational research and development could most appropriately address current and projected issues in education.
4. It is requested that this Memorandum be given the widest dissemination among school heads and deans of graduate schools.
