OF NEURON: HOW THE BRAIN WORKS,
HOW TO MAKE IT WORK BETTER"

To: Bureau Directors
Regional Directors
Schools Superintendents
Heads of Private Elementary and Secondary Schools

1. The Center for Learning and Teaching Styles, Philippines, is sponsoring a non-technical seminar-workshop entitled "A Celebration of Neurons: How the Brain Works, How to Make It Work Better," in Manila and Cebu. The seminar-workshop in Manila is slated on November 4-5, 1997 at the 4th Floor, Robinson's Galleria Suite, One ADB Avenue, Ortigas Center, Mandaluyong City, while the seminar-workshop in Cebu will be on November 6-7, 1997 at the SM - Cebu Conference Center.
2. The seminar-workshop aims to bare modern breakthroughs in cognitive (brain) research. The main seminar discussant on Modern Brain Research will be Dr. Robert Sylvester, head figure and professor of Education at the University of Oregon.
3. Guidance counselors, school principals, supervisors, other educators and parents are invited to attend. Teachers may be allowed to attend if there are substitutes available.
4. The registration fee (indicated below) covers seminar materials, certificates, two lunches and four snacks.

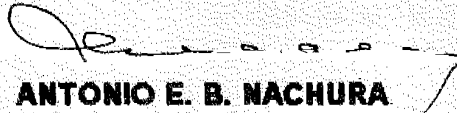

Early Registration: Not later than October 6 - P3,500.00

Later Registration: October 6 and onwards - P3,800.00

Mode of Payments: Bank checks payable to the Center for Learning and Teaching Styles

5. Transportation expenses, board and lodging and registration fee of public school participants shall be charged against local funds, subject to availability and the usual accounting and auditing rules and regulations. Private school participants shall make their own arrangements with their respective institutions.

6. Wide dissemination of this Memorandum is desired.
