DepEd MEMORANDUM
No. 31, s. 2002

2002 INTEL EXCELLENCE IN TEACHING AWARD

To: Bureau Directors
Regional Directors
Schools Division/City Superintendents
Public Secondary Schools Principals

1. The Science Service through the Science Education Institute (SEI) of the Department of Science & Technology (DOST) is pleased to announce the Intel Excellence in Teaching Award intended for secondary teachers teaching science and mathematics.
2. To qualify in this competition, the teacher must:
 - a. be actively teaching science or mathematics in secondary schools;
 - b. support students' independent research and/or competition in science fair;
 - c. be available and willing to be released by the school administration to attend the Intel ISEF on May 12-18, 2002 in Louisville, Kentucky, USA, should she/he be named a teacher finalist.
3. Applicants will be asked to provide a proposal that will demonstrate the success of an existing program and plan on how to replicate and disseminate this knowledge within their school, district, community and region.
4. The winners will be chosen based on the creativity and innovation of their proposal as well as its potential impact. The proposal shall include a budget not to exceed US$20,000 as counterpart of the school district.
5. A maximum of five (5) teachers will be named as teacher finalists and will receive an all-expense paid trip to the 2002 Intel ISEF in Louisville, Kentucky, USA on May 12-18, 2002 as well as a US$1,000 cash award. Finalists will provide workshops about their projects and will be involved in the special activities of the Intel Teacher Program. At the end of the Intel ISEF, one finalist will be selected to win a laptop, US$5,000 cash award and a US$20,000 grant to implement in their school district per their submitted proposal.
