OFFICE OF ADMISSIONS

GENERAL INFORMATION BULLETIN ON FRESHMAN ADMISSION
Academic Year 2007-2008

THE UNIVERSITY OF THE PHILIPPINES

The University of the Philippines has seven constituent universities -- UP Diliman (with an extension program in Pampanga), UP Baguio, UP Los Baños, UP Manila, UP Visayas (with campuses in Iloilo/Miagao, Cebu and Tacloban), UP Mindanao, and the Open University (which has its own admission test). Some degree programs are offered in only one campus (e.g., BS Aquaculture, BA Agriculture) while others are offered in two or more campuses (e.g., BA Psychology, BS Computer Science). The Diliman campus is the University's flagship campus and offers the largest number of degree programs. Other campuses are known for specific areas of specialization. For example, UP Manila is the country's center of excellence in the health sciences; UP Los Baños is a national and international center of academic excellence in agriculture, forestry and related sciences in Asia; UP Visayas is noted for its program in fisheries which is recognized as one of the best in Asia; UP Baguio is noted for its Cordillera Studies program; and the UP Open University, offering mainly post-graduate degree programs, provides educational opportunities beyond the boundaries of a conventional university (i.e., through distance learning).

As the premier State University, U.P. offers a wide range of degree programs. Most of these require qualification through the U.P. College Admission Test (UPCAT). To maintain its high standard of education and to maximize its limited resources, U.P. has had to impose upper limits on freshman admission to each campus and to its various degree programs.

Some programs are in much greater demand than others so that their upper limits are often more quickly reached. Other programs may not be as much in demand so that their limits are rarely, if ever, reached. Programs where the demand often surpasses the available slots are considered to be over-subscribed. One must qualify for these programs through the UPCAT. Graduates of foreign high schools may qualify for admission into programs that are not over-subscribed as beginning freshmen without having to take the UPCAT provided they meet other requirements. Details on the specific requirements may be obtained from the Office of the University Registrar of the respective U.P. campuses.

ADMISSION INTO THE UNIVERSITY THROUGH THE UPCAT

If you decide to take the UP College Admission Test (UPCAT) on August 5 or 6, 2006, you will be one among many thousands who aspire to enter the University of the Philippines. (Last year, there were over 68,000 examinees.)

Admission into UP depends not only on your performance in the UPCAT but also on your high school grades. Your weighted standardized scores on the UPCAT subtests in Language Proficiency, Reading Comprehension, Mathematics and Science, and the weighted average of final grades in your first three years in high school are combined. Moreover, to implement the policy of democratization to make the UP studentry more representative of the nation's population, socio-economic and geographic considerations are factored in the selection of campus qualifiers.

Qualifying for a Campus

In your application, you have to choose two campuses from among 9 (Baguio, Cebu, Diliman, Iloilo, Los Baños, Manila, Mindanao, Pampanga, and Tacloban) and indicate them in order of preference. You also need to indicate two degree programs per campus on your UPCAT application form and rank them in order of preference. Your application will be processed according to your campus and course choices and in the order you specified.

All applicants will be ranked based on their admission grades which are the combined UPCAT scores, high school grades, and equity factors where applicable, and screened based on the choice of campuses. The top-ranking applicants, based on the quota and cut-off grade set by each campus, will qualify. Entry into UP Diliman or UP Manila is the most competitive because these campuses are chosen by most applicants. If you make it to your first choice, you will no longer be considered for your second choice of campus. But if you do not make it to your first choice, you are automatically considered for your second choice of campus.

Qualifying for a Program

Once you qualify to enter a campus, the next step is to be accepted into one of the degree programs you chose. A screening procedure is followed for this purpose. Different grade predictors are used for different programs. Campus qualifiers are ranked according to the degree program predictor. Top-ranking qualifiers are accepted according to the number of slots available for that program.

If you make it to the quota for your first choice of course, you will no longer be screened for your second choice. If you don't make it to your first choice of degree program, you will undergo the same screening process for your second choice. If you still do not make it, you will remain qualified for that campus but must then find a degree program that can accommodate you. Remember, you are an UPCAT qualifier; you only need to find a program that will accept you. The campus Registrar's Office will help you find that program. Qualification into U.P. is therefore a matter of qualifying for a campus.

WHAT IF I DO NOT QUALIFY FOR A CAMPUS

If you do not qualify to any of your campus choices, you have several options:

FIRST: You can try other UP campuses if:

- 1 your rating is within their cut-off, and
- 2 they still have available slots.

Present your Non-Qualifier's Slip (which will be sent to you in the mail and which will indicate your admission grade) to the Registrar's Office of the campus you want to enter. There is no guarantee of acceptance as each campus makes its own decisions according to its own criteria.

SECOND: If no UP campus can accommodate you, you can enroll in a college or university other than UP. After earning 33 academic units with a weighted average of 2.00 or better on the U.P. marking system, you can apply for transfer into a UP campus. Again, each campus has its own rules on transfer and accepts only a limited number of transfer students. Information regarding transfer to UP may be obtained from the Office of the University Registrar of the respective U.P. campuses.

FREE OF CHARGE AND MAY BE PHOTOCOPIED
